The Current Digest of the Chinese Press

Published weekly in Print and Online

The Current Digest of the Chinese Press, the newest weekly publication from East View Press, offers a comprehensive, broad-survey understanding of current events and happenings as reported by mass media in the People's Republic of China. Following the same methodology used by its sister publication The Current Digest of the Russian Press, this title will be a great addition to your English-language resource collection.

Each week The Current Digest of the Chinese Press offers the reader a digestible collection of articles from dozens of key Chinese newspapers on a wide range of topics, including politics, international relations, security, economics, education, public health, culture and more. Seeing as these sources are focused on a domestic – not foreign – audience, we believe The Current Digest of the Chinese Press will offer a much clearer (if more complex) view of the current Chinese reality.

The Current Digest of the Chinese Press offers any reader, regardless of Chinese language ability, the opportunity to understand China in far greater depth than ever before.

Stay Current with insights from the Chinese Press on:

- Politics * International Relations
- Economics * Security
- Environment * Public Health
- Education * Culture and more!
